

How to lead an engaging conversation

Intention

It's our intention to give you a first and strong introduction in the art of facilitating engaging conversations for change.

Not only by telling people about it, but also experiencing it! It's a day of hard work, and great fun.

Desired Outcome

At the end of today's program. We hope that you have a better understanding of the art of holding engaging conversations, and that we have a sense of how to engage the people we need to work with.
